Web Developer Skills

- ◆ Attended Montana Code School's Full-Stack Jr. Web Developer Program from Sept. 17 – Dec. 7, 2018.
 - Elements Game was the most "famous" of my groups' creations and can be viewed at:
http://elements-game.herokuapp.com
 - We used Nodejs, socket.io, React, Express, Material UI, JavaScript, and Heroku
 - TarotPedia was an API that our group created related to viewing the Tarot Cards and their meanings. This API was designed on the front-end by Will Hale and Bryce Kilker and written on the back-end by myself and my other group partner Nathan Stimson. We published this online using Heroku.
- ◆ My published websites can be viewed online as evidence of my abilities:
 - www.riverotterguides.com
I designed a Professional Fishing Guide website for a client in Washington State.
 - www.dofoil.com
I coded a Math Website to calculate FOIL using HTML5, JS6, & CSS3.
 - www.dlwilliamsinsurance.com & www.dwilliamsinsurance.com
I am currently beginning to code and design a Commercial Insurance Website for my dad's business in Missoula, MT. It will be a site for Commercial Insurance Businesses to find competitive, affordable, and reliable business insurance rates.
 - www.developersafepictures.com
My current project is creating a website where fellow developers can go to find copyright-free images to use for their webpage designs.
 - www.bonedrytaphouse.com
I am currently working on a website for a Brew and Tap House in Sierra Vista, Arizona.
- ◆ I have devoted more than 1,800 hours to coding since July when I found out I got accepted to the Montana Code School in Missoula, MT. Resulting in:
 - Strong experience using:

HTML5	JavaScript(ES6)	CSS3	Linux Environment
Git and GitHub	Agile Methodologies	Microsoft Excel & Word
Adobe: Creative Cloud, Dreamweaver, Illustrator, InDesign, Photoshop, Visual Studio, and XD
 - Experience using:

jQuery	React	Express	Nodejs	MongoDB
RESTful API's	socket.io	Material UI	Unity	Heroku
Android Studio	PHP	MySQL	Python	Visual Studio
